ABOUT MATTHEW REDMAN, APEX CHIROPRACTIC

I am a Doctor of Chiropractic that excels in identifying and correcting neuromusculoskeletal problems. I am experienced in managing a practice, while working in an integrated setting closely with other healthcare providers. I understand the importance of outstanding clinical integrity and diligence. I work well in an efficient fast pace environment that is reliant upon teamwork and clinical decision making. I encourage patients to maintain the autonomy of their own health and work with them to attain and maintain their goals through proper Chiropractic care. I am personable, kind, and patient. People do business with others that they like, know, and trust. It is vitally important to me to establish a relationship with my patients that is impactful and lasting. It is paramount to provide the highest quality of healthcare in order to retain those relationships.
