At Synergex Med we believe in an interventional and lifestyle-based approach to treating pain and brain injuries. Through our highly trained and respected physicians, we seek to bring a careful and thoughtful approach to each and every patient's condition.

Our physicians have trained at some of the finest institutions in the nation and we seek to provide that quality of care to our patients. At Synergex Med we view the role of the physician to help patients make the best decisions towards their health for themselves.

We want every patient to have an experience in which they feel listened to, are not rushed, and are provided with a transparent academic level of care which is often missing in community practices.
